Vosker Security Box for the V200 Security Camera, Weather Resistant Heavy-Duty Steel, Protects Cams from People, Animals, Theft, Environmental Damage

- Holes in the back to anchor to any surface
- Holes on both sides to insert a cable-lock or a standard lock
- Fits all Vosker security cameras

Universal Vosker Camera Support – This heavy-duty security camera protection box can easily fit the V200 camera to provide flexibility and support outdoors.

Rugged All-Weather Design – Crafted from a premium-grade steel our security camera box is made for year-round use, so you can safeguard a home or property in even the most unstable weather.

Quick, Stable Mounting – We've added holes on both sides to make it easier to insert our cable lock, as well as hole on the front to install a traditional padlock or key lock.

Mountable for Added Stability – Inside the high security lock box on the back you'll find holes that help you screw it into a flat surface, pole, or other access point to provide longer-lasting resilience.

Smart, Accessible Front Panel – The best part of the Vosker lock box is that the front makes it easier to install or remove a camera to check stored pictures or videos.
